

WILEY AFFAIR STARTS RUMPUS

Storm of Protest Breaks at News of Plan to Oust Pure Food Advocate

CONGRESS WILL ACT SOON

Friends Rally to Support of Chemist in the Fight Against the "Interests"

WASHINGTON, July 14. — Dr. Harry W. Wiley will not be separated from his job as chief chemist without an upheaval such as the administration has never known before according to statements here today. Prominent republicans joined with democrats of the house today to urge an immediate investigation into the charge that the latest attempt to "get" the pure food chief is instigated by the "interests" which he has antagonized by fearless administering of the law, although as a matter of departmental routine. The house committee on expenditures today made plans for immediate action. Another schism of the Ballinger-Pinchot type is predicted by Wiley's friends.

Champion of People
As representing the general indignation among democratic members over the plan to oust Wiley, Representative Sulzer (Dem., N. Y.) today said:

"Dr. Wiley is one of the few champions the people have had. He is the most valuable man in the government service. I do not think the administration will make the mistake of dispensing with his services. He has done monumental work for this government and its people in protecting them from the food adulterators, patent medicine concerns and canned food manufacturers."

"The people have a champion in Dr. Wiley. He has kept them from being the prey of these combinations. I will give Dr. Wiley all the support I have. He may have made mistakes but they have been mistakes of the head and not of the heart."

May Hit Wickersham

There was talk at the capital today of a reprisal directed against Attorney-General Wickersham for his report that Wiley's offense in employing Dr. Rusby "merited condign punishment." Evidence which the committee on expenditures in the department of justice has uncovered shows, the attorney general himself to have been guilty of "irregularities" in disregarding the law which requires that payments of expenses to special assistant attorneys be itemized in full. President Taft is receiving letters and telegrams from all over the country protesting against any move against the pure food official. Dr. Wiley would not contradict the statement that certain officials in the department of agriculture had been attempting to undermine him and nullify his work.

He had not receded from his fighting attitude of yesterday when asked today for an expression of opinion.

May Sue For Libel

"I am positive," he asserted, "that there are certain persons and interests trying to assassinate me, not my body, but my character. Of the two modes of assassination, I would infinitely prefer the physical."

Regarding his reported intention to sue for damages, for libel, Dr. Wiley said that he regarded many of the statements circulated about him to be justification for such a suit.

LEGISLATURE WILL ADJOURN TOMORROW

MADISON, Wis., July 14. — The state senate today adopted a resolution providing for adjournment of the legislature sine die at 11:59 tomorrow night.

The lower house will likely concur in the plan late this afternoon. The governor today informed the members of the legislature he would finish consideration of all measures before him by noon tomorrow. This will mean he will likely sign the new reappointment measure just passed by both houses to replace the one he vetoed several days ago.

Both houses today passed as a measure providing for the correction of errors in the statutes. The bill, a lengthy one, was the last up for consideration. Its consideration closed the legislative business of the session.

DEATH BARES BIG FINANCIAL PLAN

James Pettit, president of the Peavy Grain company, whose death at Highland Park, Mich., has been followed by the firm's suspension on an investigation by creditors. Sums involved in the crash may reach over $1,000,000. According to a statement issued by the firm, all debts are to be paid.

DEATH TONIGHT PLAN FOR SEWER

Five Out of Eight Aldermen on Committee Said to Be Opposed to Extension

The sewer extension plan for the southern portion of the city is marked for death at the meeting of the council tonight when, it is claimed, five of the eight committeemen will render a report against the proposition.

A minority report, signed by three of the eight, will be put in which exceptions to the majority report will be inserted.

The sewer proposition was the subject for more than one argument in the city hall this morning and it is understood that in the joint meeting of the sewers, finance and water committees who discussed the proposition last night the fight was a little hotter than at any other point in the city buildings.

The plan, as proposed to the council and referred to the joint committees, would call for an appropriation of approximately $97,407, of which the city was to pay $52,775 and the property owners $44,632.

An equal taxation of all property owners in the district benefited was planned instead of the old system of making the owners of lots on the main sewers stand the big expense and the property owner on laterals to pay comparatively fifty per cent less.

Opposition to this plan arose and the protest, it is claimed, will result in the adverse report tonight.

MORE PAPERS LOST IN GUGGENHEIM'S CASE

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Another mysterious "disappearance" of documents in regard to Controller Bay, Alaska, rights of way, developed today before the house committee on expenditures in the interior department.

Major J. B. Cavanaugh, assistant to the chief of engineers, swore that he had been unable to find a map which Chairman Graham (Dem., Ill.) has proof was in the files of the war department until a few weeks ago. It was alleged to have been filed on Dec. 14, 1910, by Richard S. Ryan, alleged Guggenheim agent, and purported to show his claims.

AVIATOR SAILS TO WHITE HOUSE DOOR

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Undeterred by rain and high winds, Aviator Harry N. Atwood sailed today almost up to the door of the White House to receive from president a gold medal voted by the Aero club in recognition of his cross country flights. He made the trip from College park to the White house ellipse, eight miles, in less than eight minutes. He was drenched to the skin.

After changing his clothes, Atwood attended a dinner of the Chamber of Commerce. Then he went back to the White house ellipse, boarded his biplane and sailed up almost to the president's door.

TRUST IS BLAMED FOR MANY DEATHS

New York District Attorney Starts Action Against the Ice Dealers' Combine

SUFFERING DURING HEAT

Trust, Panic Stricken, Rushes Ice to Sweltering City to Forestall Prosecution

NEW YORK, July 14.—That a criminal conspiracy for the control of the ice market of New York is responsible for many deaths and much of the suffering during the heat wave just passed is the opinion today of District Attorney Whitman. He believes that one concern controls the supply of natural ice, another the supply of artificial, and still another markets the two products; artificially produces an ice famine, forces the price to a prohibitive figure so far as the poor of the city are concerned, and dominates the market through having to sell to the independents during the recent hot wave.

Whitman today arranged for a judicial inquiry to be begun before Magistrate Appleton next Tuesday. He was induced to adopt this method rather than a grand jury investigation when he learned that the trust, panic stricken over the concerted demand for criminal prosecutions, was rushing ice to this city on every sort of craft that could be pressed into service.

Heretofore the trust claimed lack of equipment prevented it getting more than enough ice to supply its own customers.

ESCAPES THE GALLOWS

ANGELINA NAPOLITANA WILL NOT HANG FOR KILLING HUSBAND; MAY BE PAROLED SOON

OTTAWA, Ont., July 14.—Angelina Napolitano will not hang. The official announcement of the cabinet's recommendation to the deputy governor general will probably not be made until the order in council is signed by Sir Louis Davies some days hence, but the decision of the cabinet was reached this morning on the advice of the minister of justice, and so the woman of Soo, Canada, who killed her husband, it is said, is saved from the gallows. Her sentence will be commuted to life imprisonment and she will probably be released on parole within a very reasonable period.

JURISDICTION OF JUDGE QUESTIONED

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 14.—A ruling on the question as to whether Police Judge Collins has jurisdiction in extradition cases, such as that connected with the arrest of John J. McNamara here, will be handed down within a few days by Judge Remser of the superior court. Arguments on the motions to declare the order for the return of two alleged confidence men to Toledo null and void were heard this morning.

Attorneys Rappaport and Zelfred, who are retained in the McNamara case, seek to hold Judge Collins, the local police officials and Detective Crail of Toledo criminally responsible for taking the men to Toledo.

Motions to quash the charges were filed today by the defense together with a motion to quash the writ of habeas corpus filed in the interests of the prisoners.

BRAKEMAN FOILS BANDIT

CENTERVILLE, Ia., July 14.—The surrounding country here is being watched today for a "lone bandit" who unsuccessfully tried to hold up a fast Burlington train at Glenwood Junction, Iowa, last night. The robber, discovered by a brakeman, covered the latter with a revolver and ordered him to throw up his hands. Instead of complying, the brakeman hit the robber over the head with his lantern, knocking him from the car steps and securing the revolver. The robber fled.

FOREST FIRES NEAR SUNDANCE

Wires from Deadwood, S. D., today announce that the Sundance national forest, near Sundance, Wyo., is burning, and that fifty men have been sent out of Deadwood to fight the flames and save adjacent property.

OUTCASTS MAY DISBAND SUNDAY

La Crosse Fans Must Raise $1,200 by First of the Week to Keep the Team

LEAGUE WILL DISSOLVE

Directors' Meeting Tomorrow Night Will Decide Fate of the Players

"The La Crosse Outcasts will disband following the Sunday's game unless the fans of La Crosse raise $1,200 in the meantime," said President Elliott today.

"At the present time there is just enough funds left in the bank to pay the monthly salaries of the players and if it is impossible to raise the $1,200 necessary to finance the club through the remainder of the season the club will have to go."

"As for the chances of $1,200 being raised by Sunday, they are small, according to my opinion and the fans of La Crosse will doubtless witness their last game of professional baseball in this city for some time, next Sunday."

Finances Discussed

The cause of the sudden announcement is the result of a meeting of the board of directors last night which was thoroughly discussed and it was decided that baseball would have to be abandoned in this city, due to the lack of support of the local fans.

The Liesenfeld Printing company attached $330 of the funds of the baseball association yesterday, that amount being due on printing matter. The act of the Liesenfeld company brought the finances to a low ebb and it was found that the amount on hand will just about meet the expenses of the club up to Sunday.

Most of the directors seem to be in favor of disbanding, being discouraged with the situation and there is but small chance of the league surviving. The unsettled condition of baseball matters at Rochester have also had an influence on the question in this city and it is rumored in baseball circles that despite the statements of the board of directors of the Queen city to the effect that they will remain in the league, the Rochester club will never finish the season.

Poor Support

A baseball club is an expensive amusement at the best and a team of the class of players of the Outcasts is exceptionally expensive.

Ten per cent of the gate receipts goes to the fund of the league. The visiting club gets a guarantee of $40. The salaries of the ground keeper, the ticket seller, and the gate tender must all be taken out of the gate receipts. Then fifty dollars a day for the maintenance of the club. The average gate receipts are about $42. Thus the expenses come to about $60 more a day than the gate receipts.

The players can all be sold if the club disbands Sunday, and considerable cash can be realized while if the club drags along for another month, continually going deeper in debt there will be nothing left to pay the expenses.

The final meeting of the directors on the question will be held Saturday night and it will be definitely decided to either disband or continue in the league.

If the Outcasts disband, the Rochester club is sure to do the same but as the remaining four clubs are on a sound basis they will probably continue throughout the remainder of the season as a four club league.

SENATE FIXES DATES BEFORE ADJOURNING

WASHINGTON, July 14. — The first definite step toward adjournment of the extra session was forecasted this afternoon when the senate adopted and fixed dates for the vote on reciprocity, statehood, reappointment and the democratic tariff measures.

The agreement today comprises a clean-up of all the legislative business now pending before the senate. The voting program follows:

Saturday, July 22.—Vote on reciprocity before adjournment.

Thursday, July 27.—Vote on wool bill.

Tuesday, August 1.—Vote on the farmers' free list bill.

Thursday, August 3.—Vote on reappointment.

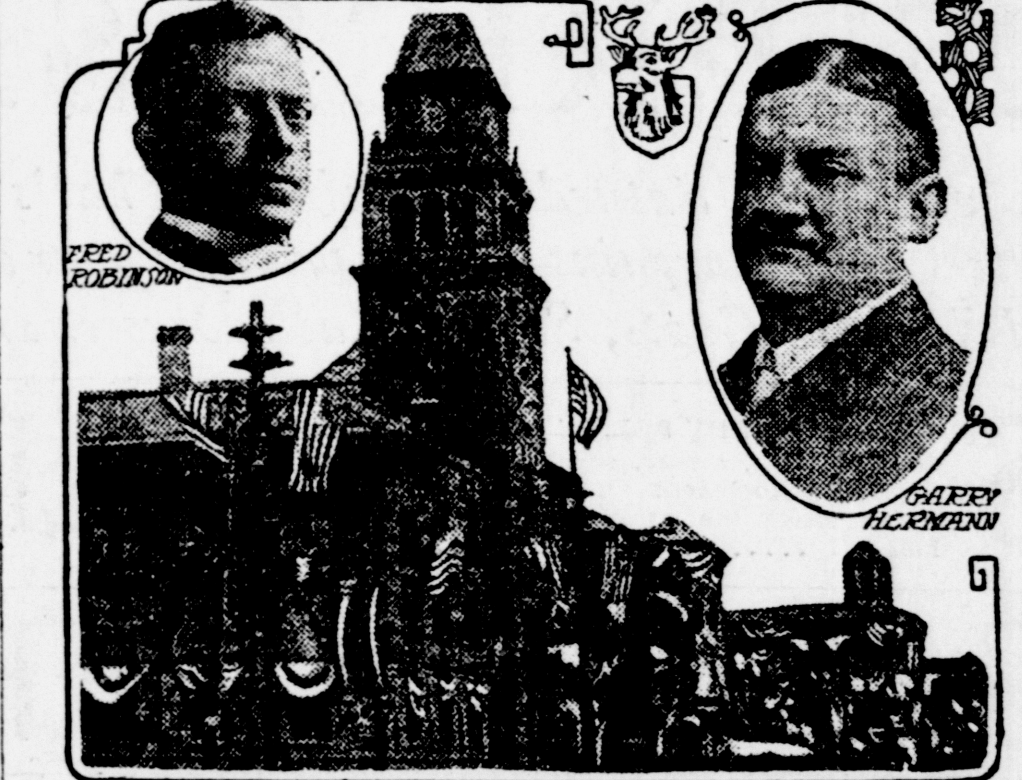

Monday, August 7.—Vote on statehood.

Penrose, Martin and La Follette explained that this program met with their approval.

DANCE WILL CLOSE ELKS' CONVENTION

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 14.—The grand lodge of Benevolent Protective Order of Elks adjourned today to meet at Portland, Ore., a year hence. The Elks' ball on the Million Dollar pier tonight will bring to a close the greatest convention the organization has ever held. Five thousand couples will attend.

ELKS THROG ATLANTIC CITY

CITY HALL AND ATLANTIC AVE. DECORATIONS. The City Hall where Elks of the nation gather for silver re-union of the order showing the decorations in honor of the occasion. August Hermann, the popular baseball magnate, is presiding over the convention. F. C. Robinson is grand secretary of the order.

SOLDIERS' WAR ACROSS RIVER

Battles Pending Near La Crescent Between the Regular Army Reds and Blues

Minnesota (Red) and Wisconsin (Blue) are at war. Each state is mobilizing a division of its soldiery, the Reds concentrating at Fort Snelling and the Blues at Sparta.

Pending mobilization, the First brigade, Red division, Brigadier General R., commanding headquarters at Red Wing, has guarded the river crossings from La Crescent to Stillwater. The Blue has patrolled the river border on the Wisconsin side and effectively prevented the Reds from crossing to reconnoiter. The third infantry, First brigade, has been posted as follows: Headquarters and one battalion at Winona, one battalion at La Crescent, one battalion at Wabasha.

Bridges Destroyed

The Blues have attempted crossing the river at Hastings and Red Wing, and have been seen in increased force from Hastings to Lake City. Pursuant to orders from General R., the Third infantry destroyed the bridges over the Mississippi river from La Crescent to Wabasha, and concentrated at the latter place. Yesterday Colonel Johnson, commanding the Third infantry, received orders to join the brigade across the Mississippi river en route. Last night the regiment encamped east of Lake City.

This morning at 6:45 the call to arms was sounded to continue the march toward Red Wing. The Second battalion, in command of Major Pratt, formed the advance guard, and about one-half a mile from camp encountered the enemy, apparently a scouting party. A sharp engagement ensued, the enemy being finally dislodged, disappearing in the dense woods. The regiment proceeded with their flankers out and on the alert.

It is expected that engagement with the main body of the enemy on Minnesota soil will take place before evening. Camp Lakeview, Minn., is deserted except for a small guard.

Corporal E. S. Sloane, Co. M, La Crosse, won third in the rifle shoot at Camp Douglas Monday.

GOVERNOR URGES WHIPPING FOR BOYS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 14.—"The frequent use of the rod, or a good spanking administered when most needed, is what our youngsters need. We need a state workhouse in Indiana and whenever a judge finds that he must send a boy under 14 to a reform school, the parents should be sent to the workhouse. This would break up the habit of parents allowing boys and girls to run wild until the state is compelled to step in and rebuild their lives."

Governor Marshall thus expressed himself here today following a visit to the Boys' school at Plainfield, which is overcrowded with mere children. "There is too much love mixed up in this home life of ours now," said the governor. "I suppose I had 150 whippings when I was a boy, and if I had had 200, perhaps today I would be respectable."

M'NAMARA TRIAL SET FOR OCTOBER 10

LOS ANGELES, July 14.—The trial of John and James McNamara on charge of murder in connection with the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times will begin October 10, almost exactly a year after the Times plant was destroyed. The two prisoners were brought before Judge Bordwell at 10 a. m. and pleaded not guilty. After a brief preliminary argument by District Attorney Fredricks and counsel for the defense, the court set Oct. 10 as the date.

THOUSAND SQUARE MILES IN ASHES

Property Loss in Michigan Forest Fire Estimated at Nearly Ten Millions

HOMELESS SEARCH RUINS

Refugees Seek Trace of Missing Relatives; the Towns Already Prepare to Rebuild

DETROIT, Mich., July 14.—Seven known dead, scores still missing, property loss near $10,000,000 and an area of 1,000 square miles devastated, is today the toll of the Michigan forest fires for three days. Many fires are still burning but on the whole the situation is much improved and unless high winds return it is believed the danger is over.

East Tawas, on the Detroit & Mackinac railroad, at present the home of several hundred refugees from Oscoda and Au Sable, is reported today to be in grave danger with fierce fires burning only six miles from the town. Preparations are being hurriedly made to fight the flames.

According to reports the only really dangerous fires remaining today are in Presque and Cheboygan counties, at the extreme upper end of the lower peninsula.

Homeless Search Ruins

Several hundred homeless gathered at Au Sable and Oscoda today and searched the ruins for any trace of the bodies of relatives or friends who are still missing. The refugees are determined to rebuild and already several carloads of lumber have been ordered to start the work. The Michigan National Guard is patrolling the ruins today and helping in the search of the ruins.

None of the refugees are suffering from lack of food or protection. From all over the state, money, food and clothing has poured into the devastated district, and all the homeless are well supplied with the first necessities of life.

No rain is yet in sight for the upper end of the peninsula which still remains like a tinder-box, and with the return of a high wind it is feared the horrors of the last three days may be repeated.

Over 500 Dead

COBALT, Ont., July 14.—With the fires in northern Ontario under control, the government is today devoting all of its attention to alleviating the sufferings of the survivors and recovering the bodies from the devastated district. The death list will exceed 500 according to the information sent by the officials in charge of the work. The survivors are suffering from hunger and supplies are being rushed forward from many points.

Advices from Sellwood say all along the Canadian Northern line from Sudbury to Sellwood, millions of feet of standing timber was burned. Fifty houses and the plant of the Warren Lumber company at Sellwood were destroyed but no lives lost.

In the official list of dead at Porcupine as a result of the forest fire are the following:

Red Cross to Aid

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 14.—At a meeting of the executive board of the Minnesota Red Cross society, to be held in St. Paul next Monday, it will be decided whether $17,000 remaining from the $100,000 fund collected for the relief of the Beaudette and Northern Minnesota forest fire sufferers last fall, can be used, in part, now toward the relief of the fire sufferers in Michigan and northern Ontario. This plan, it is said, is generally favored by the board.

SPIRIT TIPS EXPENSIVE

CHICAGO, July 13.—By speculating on tips from a spirit medium Jacob Henry Lesher has lost $1,000,000 in the last four years. He has also lost his wife and must pay her alimony.

WEATHER

KUOLT SCORES ALDRICH PLAN

State Commissioner Gives Scathing Denouncement of Central Bank Scheme

CALLS IT HIGH FINANCE
Says 90,000,000 People Would Be Placed in Power of Nine Men

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 14.—A scathing denouncement of the Aldrich plan of currency reform, known otherwise as the central bank, marked the address of Albert E. Kuolt, state commissioner of banking, in the course of an address before the Wisconsin Bankers' association, in annual convention here today. Mr. Kuolt branded the plan as an emanation of high finance rather than of legitimate banking, and its inspiration as Wall street. Panics, he said, are due to Wall street.

After giving highest praise to Wisconsin's efficient banking system, Mr. Kuolt added that a plan is on foot to undermine the free banking system, referring to the proposed Reserve Association of America, or the so-called "Aldrich plan of currency reform."

Greatest Money Power
"It is a big plan," said Mr. Kuolt. "Briefly, it is proposed to mobilize and to concentrate (to use Mr. Aldrich's own expression) about one billion and a half dollars of lawful money under one management, that management virtually to consist of nine men, members of the executive committee, of whom four are permanent members and officers, and five are elected by the board."

"One billion and a half of lawful money, with power to issue bank notes or circulation against this 'reserve,' to the amount of 40 per cent, or, in round numbers, $600,000,000, places a total of two billion, one hundred million dollars under the control of nine men. This would be the greatest money power ever concentrated on earth. Restrict the power of the association as you may, place all imaginable safeguards around it, the result will always be the same—that of placing the necks of 90,000,000 people under the knees of an executive committee of nine men."

"Such will be the inevitable result—the result from which you cannot escape, once the plan is enacted; the result, which you are asking to aid with your money, and your depositors' money, because you may derive some temporary benefit, though I doubt very much that this combination will benefit you any. But let it be granted that you, and bankers throughout the country, will derive some temporary facilities, or profits, or other benefits—but at what expense? At the expense of abnegation, awe, and humiliation, each being but a paltry cog in a gigantic financial wheel, each being a pawn in the hands of your masters upon an immense chess board."

ed to aid with your money, and your depositors' money, because you may derive some temporary benefit, though I doubt very much that this combination will benefit you any. But let it be granted that you, and bankers throughout the country, will derive some temporary facilities, or profits, or other benefits—but at what expense? At the expense of abnegation, awe, and humiliation, each being but a paltry cog in a gigantic financial wheel, each being a pawn in the hands of your masters upon an immense chess board."

High Finance
"This is not banking, gentlemen. This is high finance—too high for this humble planet of ours; much too high for this American democracy. And what for? What is the object of this Titanic scheme? Why do you want it, if you do want it?"

"I don't know but that some of you have felt, or may feel, that this is the right and proper panacea for panic, shrinkage of credit, of circulating medium, in short, for all evils preceding or following in the wake of a panic."

"To my mind, the only legitimate cause of an industrial stagnation and consequent financial distress is a general failure of crops, when the eight or nine millions of farmers, with their families, cease buying manufactured commodities, because they have not the ready money, and, as a result, merchants and manufacturers, and the masses of wage-earners suffer, and great depression results in every field of human endeavor. This is the only legitimate cause for panics, to my understanding—failure of crops."

"And the panics, occurring ever so often—too often to suit you and me, and the country—invariably come from New York. You never heard of a panic, a countrywide panic, originating in Milwaukee, or in San Francisco. These storms always gather, and burst, in New York city—in Wall street."

Panics Due to Wall Street
"These panics, then, are manifestly due to Wall street conditions, probably to too heavy buying, partly to other causes, all of which result in straining of credit. To cure these conditions it is proposed that the money of the entire union, the reserve of all banks, two billions of money, shall be placed, under compulsion, at the disposal of nine men, where, you are told, it will be your money, deposited in your bank, because you will be stockholders in it—some of you to the number of four thousand shares, and some having fifty shares."

"The prime object of this mobilization of money will be to correct conditions in Wall street, whence all panics come. By helping to connect these panicky conditions you will be sure never again to suffer from a panic—at least the monetary commission promises you that. It cannot do any less than to promise this, else it would be difficult to interest you in this plan. . . . No bank that is well managed that is lawfully conducted, ever needs to close its doors because of a panic in Wall street."

"It is clear that Wall street banking, or rather, Wall street financing, needs correction. Let other remedies, then, be applied to Wall street. Let not Wall street sores be cured at the cost of the proposed countrywide surrender of the banker's birthright for a mass of pottage."

Attack on Trusts
To the argument of advocates of the Aldrich plan that centralization also has been taking place in other lines of business, Mr. Kuolt answered that alongside the trusts there are left many independent concerns which in a sense offer competition and prevent the establishment of a complete monopoly. He cited the nation's present attack upon the trusts as an example of the effects of industrial centralization.

"The reserve association will absolutely control the money market," continued Mr. Kuolt. "It will regulate the rate of interest. It will dictate your investments. It will practically control every bank in the union, or force it out of business. This is not an American plan. It is repugnant to American ideals, to the American tradition of free banking."

"In power, in its ramifications, in its functions, it exceeds the first United States bank. It discounts the Second United States bank. If ever established, it will meet their fate, after a bitter struggle; their fate, after a bitter struggle."

"We are told this must not be a political issue. There never was a plan, nor a legislative scheme, as certain of becoming a political issue as will this central bank scheme, or this Reserve Association of America. If it wins out and becomes an established fact, it will not cease being a political issue at every recurring election, and in the interim."

Reform is Needed
"Granted that we need currency reform, elasticity in volume of the medium of exchange, security against panics. Let these problems be solved on an American plan, by American brains. Let not foreign, 'ready-made' ideas be transplanted here, to supplant the American system."

Earlier in his address, Commissioner Kuolt said there is nothing to criticize about the Wisconsin banking situation, and that their record both in number and volume of business has been astonishing. Failures have been so few and far between, and so insignificant to depositors as to place Wisconsin on record among all states as the state of correct

banking methods—the state of safe banking."

The total deposits in all banks in Wisconsin, including national, state and private, has been augmented from $70,000,000 in 1895 to $285,000,000 on November 10, 1910, an increase of 306 per cent. The proportion of increase in bank deposits to gain in population is as 18 to 1. Believing that the present state banking laws are a model and that constant tinkering is bad policy, Mr. Kuolt reiterated, he said, from recommending any radical changes by future legislatures.

The following were nominated

state vice presidents, which is equivalent to election:

Illinois, Mrs. Ella Flagg Young; Texas, George H. Carpenter; Arizona, C. F. Philbrook; Colorado, Mrs. Helen Wixon; Oklahoma, R. E. Wilson; Wyoming, F. S. Stockwell; Oregon, E. D. Kessler; Maryland, W. C. Phillips; California, Edward Hyatt; Hawaii, Vaughn McCaughey.

GOSSIP CAUSES SUICIDE
CHICAGO, July 14.—Gossip in home town, Camden, Ohio, caused L. Peters to kill himself here. He testified three years ago in a divorce suit and then gossip began.

DITCH YOUR HUSBY; GET INTO POLITICS
That a husband is a handicap to political aspirations, is the belief of Mrs. Prisca W. Olson, according to her husband, Olaf Olson, who claims that his better half plans on some day filling the place of Governor McGovern.

Mrs. Olson has started suit for divorce on the grounds of non-support but her husband claims that her object in wishing to gain her freedom is that she will be better able to handle her campaign for election to the governor's chair when woman suffrage is adopted by the state of Wisconsin.

APPORTIONMENT UP TO GOVERNOR

Senate Concurs in Assembly Substitute Bill; All Amendments Are Voted Down

AD VALOREM TAX DROPPED

Bill Amending Present Fish and Game Law Starts Fireworks by Hustung

MADISON, Wis., July 14.—(Special.)—The senate last night refused to change the apportionment bill passed by the assembly at noon yesterday. When the assembly bill was introduced it changed nothing but the senatorial and assembly districts of Milwaukee county, in accordance with Governor McGovern's message. The senate referred the bill to the apportionment committee, which reported it back at 8:15 p. m. with two amendments. One sought to open up the congressional apportionment problem. It was voted down, 13 to 10. The other provided that the counties of Waukesha and Walworth should constitute the thirty-third senatorial district, and the counties of Rock and Jefferson the twenty-second senatorial district. This was defeated, 11 to 12. Concurrence in the assembly bill then was voted, 15 to 8. It will now go to the governor.

Hustung Defends Weiss

The senate last night concurred in two assembly bills which were passed Thursday under suspension of the rules. One of the bills relates to the employment of minors from fourteen to sixteen years of age, and provides that in any city in which there is an evening, vocational or commercial school any child working under a permit shall be compelled to attend such school at least five hours per week. The second bill caused some pyrotechnics to emanate from Senator Hustung because he contended it was inspired for spite work against ex-Congressman Weiss. The bill amends the present fish and game law and provides that not more than 45 trout of any variety shall be taken in one day. The present law applies to brook trout only.

Senator Hustung's protest was made on the ground that the fish and game department had been perniciously active in its prosecutions of a distinguished democrat which would not have been done toward one of the dominant party in the state. Senator Bosshard contended that his view was wrong; that the case against Weiss is over and that this bill is simply the expression of protection to fish; and is worthy. The bill was concurred in by a vote of 12 to 10.

Ad Valorem Tax Dropped

Just before the senate adjourned Senator Whitehead moved that no further action be taken on the message of the governor relating to the ad valorem taxation of telephone companies. He did this for the reason that the assembly Thursday refused to pass a resolution allowing the introduction of a bill covering the subject. The motion prevailed.

The senate yesterday afternoon adopted two resolutions in the nature of memorials, relating to the death of Robert J. McGeehan of De Pere, who died July 9, and who was a member of the assembly from Brown county in 1899-1900 and 1901-1902.

The total deposits in all banks in Wisconsin, including national, state and private, has been augmented from $70,000,000 in 1895 to $285,000,000 on November 10, 1910, an increase of 306 per cent. The proportion of increase in bank deposits to gain in population is as 18 to 1. Believing that the present state banking laws are a model and that constant tinkering is bad policy, Mr. Kuolt reiterated, he said, from recommending any radical changes by future legislatures.

ADVERTISING IN JULY PAYS

July is a month in which newspaper advertisements are eagerly watched for and read very closely.
Many people have deferred buying articles of wearing apparel until the present time and they are watching
the columns of the newspaper carefully for the merchants' invitation to them to come to their store and inspect their stock and prices. There are many others who purchase nearly all of their summer's clothing
and wearing apparel of all kinds during July from the simple fact that they know the modern, live and up-to-date merchant will during this month inaugurate special bargain
sales of seasonable merchandise in order to make room for his fall and winter stock. July newspaper advertising is eagerly looked for and carefully read. The merchant who advertises in July reaps a rich reward and gets rid of summer stock at a time
when there is a demand for the merchandise. The merchant who advertises in July is not the man who fails to sell his seasonable merchandise and who is compelled to box it up and store it away to be displayed
on his shelves and counters next season, when styles have changed and there is little or no demand for the goods he carried over and which he is then forced to dispose of for a trifle. Newspaper readers realize that the live merchant is the one who always has a nice new, clean fresh stock of goods to show customers each season during the year. The value that newspaper advertising is to any merchant depends on the kind of a newspaper he uses as well as the circulation the newspaper has.
A newspaper that is read by the most people not only in its home city but in the cities and towns surrounding,
is the best medium through which to reach the people. The paid circulation that a paper has is what the live merchant buys. He wants to reach the people and he uses the paper that the people read. The live merchant knows that the people

read the newspaper they have confidence in and respect for, and they also know that an advertisement in a newspaper of that character is worth more than it is in a newspaper
that has scarcely any circulation in surrounding territory. People have confidence in the paper they read and no one understands this better than the really live merchant.—Hannibal

GOOD ROADS AND SOCIAL LIFE

One who studies the report of the late commission on conditions in country life, and how they may be improved is sure to reach the conclusion that nearly all the drawbacks to rural existence have their beginning, and perhaps their ending,
in bad roads. One commissioner thought the lack of social intercourse
was the greatest evil, but he said that bad roads were fundamentally
the deterrent of social gatherings.
The humane farmer would not consent to have his work teams driven to a party or church social, after a hard day's work, and all days are hard on the farmer's team. When every farmer has his motor car this will be remedied.—Madison State Journal.

Quips and Cranks
and Wanton Wiles

To the Water Cooler
Blessing on thee, little tank,
Cooler than a glacier's bank,
Sweating folks around thee throng,
Captured by thy gurgling song.
Some men sell their souls for wine;
Some for good old red-eye pine;
Some hold lemonade most dear;
Some love ale and some love beer;
But thy nectar, clear and cold,
Oft is worth its weight in gold.
When I swelter in the heat
And my clothes cling to the seat
And I grind out lines like these,
Praying vainly for a breeze,
Then, O then, I seek thy side,
And I bless thy cooling tide.
As it gurgles down my throat
With a happy, babbling note.
Out upon the scorching sands
Of Sahara's desert lands
I could travel free from care,
Heeding not the burning glare,
If I had thee by my side
And could quaff thy cooling tide.
—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Eddie Foy, at the Lamb's club
gambol in New York, told a Panama hat story.
"A young clerk out my way," he said, "gave his girl a present of a panama last year. Then, the day before the Fourth, he got a couple of complimentaries for a picnic, clam-

bake, and corn roast down the river,
and he wired the girl:
"Meet me at pier 12 tomorrow morning at 7. Picnic. Bring panama."
The next morning as he stood on pier 12, dreaming dreams of love,
imagining a long, sweet day of billing and cooing, he saw his girl advancing with her father and mother.
He was terribly annoyed, and on the boat, as soon as he could get her alone, he hissed:
"What did you want to bring the old folks for?"
"Why, Will, you told me to," she said, and she showed him the telegram which the operator had made
to read:
"Bring pa and ma."

A farmer owned a horse he was anxious to sell, and one day while driving with one of his summer
boarders the animal stopped so frequently as to lead the boarder to ask: "Why does your horse stop so often. Is he balky?"
"No," replied the farmer, "he's all right. It's simply he's so afraid somebody will say 'whoa' and he won't hear it, that he stops to listen."

A music teacher, competent but hasty, was giving a lesson to a talented but careless pupil. The teacher became impatient with the child's in-thinking mistakes, and when, at last,
and in a most inopportune moment,
the pupil's hands left the piano to search for the inevitably lost handkerchief the teacher felt that she recognized the last straw.
"Dear, dear!" she exclaimed, nervously. "Was there ever such a girl
as this one! You lose your fingering, you lose your position, you lose your handkerchief—you lose everything."
"Oh, no," came the twinkling answer, "not quite everything, Miss Blank. I haven't lost my temper yet."
She was allowed to sneeze without further correction.

The Crusty Bachelor
"George Ade was persuaded, back in 1906," said a Chicago editor, "to address a class of sweet girl graduates in white. He amused the girls,
if he didn't edify them.
"He told them, for one thing,
to take no stock in crusty bachelors
like himself. He said that bachelors were all wrong in their ideas about women. He instanced a bachelor to whom his little niece once sang:
"I know something I won't tell."
"Never mind, dear," said the crusty bachelor. "You'll get over that habit as you grow older."—New York Tribune.

Elbert Hubbard advocates good roads wittily.
"In France," he said, "the remotest mountain villages are connected with Paris by white, firm roads
equal to those of our parks and race courses. But here—especially here in Oregon!
"I motored from Portland to Es-tadaca and Molalla, returning by way of Clackamas. The roads were awful.
"What awful roads you've got here," I said to a Molalla farmer.
"Well, yes," the farmer agreed.
"A mule was drowned yesterday in the road by my orchard."—Washington Star.

Not even in their query were the newer lands of our country then alike. We lay in a vast chance-meley, and never had any country greater need for care and caution in its councils. By the grace of the immortal gods we had had given into our hands an enormous area of the earth's richest inheritance, to have and to hold, if that might be;
but as yet we were not one nation.
We had no united thought, no common belief as to what was national wisdom. For three quarters of a century this country had grown; for half a century it had been divided,
one section fighting against another
in all but arms. We spoke of America even then as a land of the free,
but it was not free; nor on the other hand was it wholly slave. Never in the history of the world has there been so great a land, nor one
of so diverse systems of government.

Before these travelers, for instance, who paused here at the head of the Ohio River, there lay the ancient dividing line between the South and the North. To the northwest, between the Great Lakes and the Ohio, swept a vast land which,
since the days of the old Northwest Ordinance of 1787, had by national enactment been decreed for ever free. Part of this had the second time been declared free, by state law also. To the eastward of this lay certain states where slavery
had been forbidden by the laws of the several states, though not by that of the nation. Again, far out to the West, beyond the great waterway on one of whose arms our travelers now stood, lay the vast provinces bought from Napoleon;
and of these, all lying north of that compromise line of thirty-six degrees, thirty minutes, agreed upon in 1820, had been declared for ever free by national law. Yet beyond this, in the extreme northwest, lay Oregon, fought through as free soil
by virtue of the old Northwest Ordinance, the sleeping dog of slavery
being evaded and left to die when
the question of Oregon came up.
Along the Pacific, and south of Oregon, lay the new empire of California, bitterly contended over by both sections, but by her own self-elected state law declared for ever free soil. Minnesota and the Dakotas were still unorganized, so there
the sleeping dog might lie, of course.

To the south of that river on which our voyagers presently were to take ship lay a section comprising
the southern states, in extent far larger than all the northern states,
and much stronger in legislative total power in the national halls of Congress. Here slavery was maintained by laws of the states themselves. The great realm of Texas, long coveted by the South, now was joined to the ranks of the slaveholding states, by virtue of a war of somewhat doubtful justice though of undoubted success. Above Texas and below the line of thirty-six degrees, thirty minutes, lay a portion of what was known as the Indian country, where in 1820 there had been made no prohibition of slavery
by the national government.

Above the line of thirty-six degrees, thirty minutes, there thrust
up a portion of Texas which had no law at all, nor had it any until a very recent day, being known under the title of "No Man's Land." Yet on to the westward, toward free California, lay a vast but supposedly valueless region where cotton surely
would not grow, that rich country
now known as Utah, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico. This region,
late gained by war from Mexico,
soon to be increased by purchase
from Mexico on the south, was still
of indeterminate status, slavery not being prohibited but permitted, by federal action, although most of this territory had been free soil under the old laws of Mexico. Moreover, as though sardonically to complicate
all these much-mingled matters,
there thrust up to the northward,
out of the permitted slavery region
of the South, the state of Missouri,
quite above the fateful line of thirty-
six degrees, thirty minutes, where slavery was permitted both by federal and state enactment.

Men spoke even then, openly or secretly, of disunion; but in full truth, there had as yet been no actual union. In such confusion, what man could call unwise a halting-time, a compromise? A country of tenures so mixed, of theories so diverse, could scarcely have been called
a land of common government.
It arrogated to itself, over all its domination, the title of a free republic, yet by its own mutual covenant of national law, any owner
of slaves in the southern states might pursue what he called his property
across the dividing line, and invoke,
in any northern state, the support of the state or national officers to assist him in taking back his slaves.
As a republic we called ourselves even then old and stable. Yet was ever any country riper for misrule than ours? Forgetting now what is buried, the old arguments all forgotten, that most bloody and most lamentable war all forgot, could any mind, any imagination, depict a situation more rife with tumult, more ripe for war than this? And was it not perforce an issue, of compromise or war; of compromise,
or a union never to be consummated?

Yet into this heterogeneous region, from all Europe, itself con-vulsed with revolution, Europe just beginning to awaken to the doctrine of the rights of humanity, there pressed westward ever increasing thousands of new inhabitants—in that current year over a third of a million, the largest immigration
thus far known. Most of these immigrants settled in the free country
of the North, and as the railways
were now so hurriedly crowding westward, it was to be seen that the ancient strife between North and South must grow and not lessen, for these new-comers were bitterly opposed to slavery. Swiftly the idea national was growing. The idea democratic, the idea of an actual self-government—what, now, was to be its history?

North of the fated compromise
line, west of the admitted slave state
of Missouri, lay other rich lands
ripe for the plow, ready for Americans who had never paid more than a dollar an acre for land, or for aliens who had never been able to own any land at all. Kansas and Nebraska, names conceived but not yet born—what would they be?
Would the compromise of this last summer of 1850 hold the balances of power even? Could it save this republic, still young and needy, for yet a time in the cause of peace and growth? Many devoutly hoped it.
Many devoutly espoused the cause
of compromise merely for the sake of gaining time. As neither of the great political parties of the day
filled its ranks from either section,
so in both sections there were many
who espoused, as many who denied,
the right of men to own slaves. We speak of slavery as the one great question of that day. It was not and never has been the greatest. The question of democracy—that was even then, and it is now, the greatest question.

Here on the deck of the steamer
at the little city of Pittsburg, then gateway of the West, there appeared men of purposes and beliefs as mixed as this mixed country from which they came. Some were pushing out into what now is known as Kansas, others going to take up land
in Missouri. Some were to pass south to the slave country, others
north to the free lands; men of all sorts and conditions, many men,
of many minds, that was true, and
all hurrying into new lands, new problems, new dangers, new remedies.
It was a great and splendid day,
a great and vital time, that threshold-time, when our western traffic increased so rapidly and assuredly
that steamers scarcely could be built
rapidly enough to accommodate it,
and the young rails leaped westward
at a speed before then unknown in the world.

Carried somewhat, somewhat, for some reason, on these surging
floods, were these travelers, of errand not wholly obvious to their fellows, yet of such sort as to call into query alike the nature of their errand and their own relations. It is easily earned reputation to state that Josephine St. Auban's was a presence not to be concealed. Even such a boat as the Mount Vernon offered a total deck space so cramped as to leave secrecy or privacy well out of the question, even had the motley
and democratic assemblage of passengers been disposed to accord either. Yet there was something in the appearance of this young woman and her companion which caused all the heterogeneous groups of humanity to make way for them, as presently they approached the gangplank.

Not a "Full-Length" Papa

An amusing incident is related of a young service matron who had relinquished her husband for two years
and, who, having before his departure insisted on a good photograph,
applied herself assiduously to the up-
bringing of her two-year-old baby
with a view to the child's familiarity with her distinguished father.
Each day she would call the baby
girl to her and, kneeling beside her,
would hold up the photograph, pointing out each feature to the child.

One day the officer came home
and the baby girl, then four years old, was summoned. "Come, dear,"
said the mother in glee, "papa has come home at last!" The child surveyed the officer in perplexity and finally shook her head.

"What is the matter, dear?" asked her mother. "Well," replied the child, "he looks something like papa, but my papa hasn't any legs!"

Irish Paddy Has Ready Wit

A good one is told of a certain Catholic priest in Milwaukee who dearly loves his jokes. It also shows that an Irishman, by means of his ready Irish wit can get out of any perplexing situation.
The priest was walking along the street where street paving was going on. He stopped in surprise when he noted that the boss of the work was an Italian, while one of the laborers was an Irishman.
"Well, my good man," said the priest banteringly to the Irishman,
"how do you like having an Italian boss?"
"Faith your grace," returned the son of Erin with a broad grin, "an-

How He Escaped

"I understand," says the special correspondent to the long, lank, bewhiskered native of Adams county, O., "that you are the only man in your section who was not indicted
for accepting a bribe for his vote at the last election."
"That's right, sir," replied the native.
"Would you object to telling me
your reasons for not taking a bribe?"
You see, you being the only man
who didn't sell his vote, anything
you have to say will be—
"I didn't know a thing about 'em."

DAHL IS ON VACATION

MADISON, Wis., July 14.—State Treasurer A. H. Dahl and several members of his family are spending their vacation with the family of Supreme Justice A. J. Vinje at the latter's summer home at Deerwood, Minn. The trip from Madison to Deerwood was made in the Dahl automobile. Mr. Dahl will be back at his desk on July 20.

WOULD STOP SUICIDES

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ohio, July 14.—
To prevent the suggestions to others
the State Pharmaceutical association has requested the press in printing accounts of suicides not to mention
the means employed.

HOT-WEATHER DIARRHEA

In the summer people of all ages are very subject to "running of the bowels."
Germs get into the food or water, find their way into the intestines and keep irritating them so that there is a constant desire to have movement. It is very weakening, destroys appetite, disturbs sleep
and produces an itchy feeling that many suppose to be piles. There are many "quick cures" for this aggravated form of dysentery, but they usually contain a narcotic, and that is dangerous. Others try salts and laxative waters, but they have no permanent effects. It takes a remedy with ingredients such as are combined in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin to drive out the trouble-causing germs, to clean out the intestines, to strengthen the stomach and enliven the liver. Ordinary remedies cannot do this, but it is a well known fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin does it. Thousands use it every summer for this very purpose. Go to your druggist today and buy a 50 cent or $1.00 bottle and see what it will do for you. It is guaranteed to do what we claim or money refunded. It has enabled thousands of families to cure themselves of simple ailments. If you have never tried it send your address for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE TO

NORTH SIDE NEWS

BOY'S BODY IS HELD BY HOOKS

North Side Lad Drowns While Attending Set Line in Black River

With his body caught on the hooks of the setline he had gone out to pull in, little Edwin Esterle was found in six feet of water in Black river yesterday evening by four of his young friends. The lad, who is thirteen years of age, left his home last night about 6:30 to look over his setline which he had across Black river near the site of the old Goddard mill. He started out with several of his young friends who left him rowing out towards the middle of the stream. They went on up the river bank about half a mile.

One of the four chanced to look back and called the attention of the others to the empty boat in mid-stream. They rushed back to where Edwin had left them and soon discovered his boat and hat floating on the water. Getting into another boat they followed the course of the setline till they discovered his limp body in about six feet of water held down by the line, the hooks of which had caught his shirt and held him below the surface of the river. The body was warm when brought to shore. The boys worked over their friend for some time but seeing it was to no avail, they started for the Esterle home with the body. Neighbors saw the sad procession and carried the news to the bereaved parents, who are heartbroken over the affair. It is not known how the boy happened to fall into the river, but it is thought he was taken with one of his fainting spells which attacked him often.

Dr. Lueck was called immediately, but was too late to resuscitate the boy. Edwin Esterle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Esterle of 2031 Berlin street. Three sisters and two brothers are left to mourn his death. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon from the house at 2 o'clock and from the German Methodist church at 2:30. Rev. William Witter will officiate. A. and O. Sletten are in charge. Interment will be made in Campbell cemetery.

NORTH SIDE MAN DIES AT HOSPITAL

Anton Miller, 615 St. Cloud street, one of the best known residents of North La Crosse, died at the St. Francis hospital yesterday morning following an attack of blood poison. Several weeks ago blood poison set in and he was removed to the hospital a few days ago but too late to save his life.

Deceased was fifty years of age and has lived in North La Crosse for several years. During the later years of his life he has followed his trade as a carpenter and has also been a contractor. The funeral arrangements have not yet been announced.

SYRIAN WAR IN COUNTY COURT

Fighting Clans Gather Before Brindley when Mike Monsoor's Up for Assault

The Syrian war left the boundaries of "Little Syria" on the north side this morning and was continued in county court where Dave Moses had Mike Monsoor hauled on a charge of assault and battery.

About all the testimony disclosed was that there had been a fight in Copeland park in which Monsoor and Moses were the principals. Mrs. Monsoor, divorced wife of the defendant asserted that she attempted to stop the fracas until someone—she didn't know who—landed a fist full of knuckles on her nose.

Monsoor maintained Moses was the aggressor and had pulled the majority of the hair from his head and that the latter had used a knife. The knife was in the fight but who wielded it was not disclosed, both parties denying the use of it and maintaining that the other had swung "da stilet."

Monsoor was fined $20 and costs or given the chance to spend thirty days in jail. The case was appealed to circuit court.

HIGH OFFICIALS INVOLVED

NEW YORK, July 14.—Daniele Variolla, agent for Genchi and Canova, concessionaires of the Italian government for the handling of the parcels post matter from Genoa to the United States was today held for examination before United States Commissioner Shields in $3,000 bail. He is charged with collecting "duty" on packages. It is alleged that high officials in Italian diplomatic and consular service are involved.

JUDGE MOODY GETS BETTER

HAVERHILL, Mass., July 14.—For the first time since rheumatism caused him to retire from the supreme bench of the United States, it was said today definitely that Justice William Henry Moody would recover. Already he has begun to gain in weight and although he suffers at times, his physician said today they now hoped he would regain health.

MAGAZINE TRUST CASE UP

$500 PEARL IS FOUND

JOHN DOWLING PICKS UP PINK GEM WHILE HUNTING CLAMS FOR A PAST TIME

Walking along Black river near the Milwaukee railroad draw yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock and picking up clams to pass away the time, John Dowling of Caledonia street, found what chanced to be a valuable pearl. The gem has a pink tinge and is the size of a pea. Mr. Dowling was offered $500 by a south side jeweler for the find, but refused the offer.

ABDUCTION CHARGE AGAINST PROFESSOR

PEORIA, Ill., July 14.—Charged with the abduction of Miss Alice Moss, a 16-year-old school girl, Nelson Whitten, married, principal of the high school at Dunlap, was arrested today. He was released on bond. The girl, the daughter of a wealthy farmer, was found working as a domestic in Bloomington.

RIOT CLOSES CONGRESS

LIMA, Peru, July 14.—Congress which opened yesterday with enthusiasm and closed its session in a riot of stones and revolver shots, resumed its session today, prepared for any further trouble. A strong force of guards was on hand. The government and the chamber of deputies are not agreed on certain important policies.

PIPE LINE PROBE ORDERED

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Rigid investigation into the operation of over sixty pipe lines in the middle west, west and southwest, was today ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Monopoly is alleged.

NAMING OF AMERICA CELEBRATED TODAY

SAINT DIE, France, July 14.—Commemorating the name "America" which was here first given to the newly discovered western continent in 1507, a three days Franco-American celebration began here today. Thousands of peasants in their picturesque costumes, from the surrounding mountains, will be joined here tomorrow by M. DeSeives, French minister of foreign affairs, other members of the cabinet, and Robert Bacon, American ambassador, as well as many members of the American colony at Paris, including J. Pierpont Morgan.

The official ceremonies begin tomorrow when a tablet will be placed on the house where America was named. It reads:

"Here was printed and published on April 25, 1507, under the reign of Rene II, the Cosmographie Introductio, where the new continent received the name America by the members of the Vosgian gymnasium, Vautrin Lud, Nicolas Lud, Jean Basin, Mathias Ringman and Martin WaldseemueLLer."

WALSH LIKELY TO BE PAROLED SOON

CHICAGO, July 14.—The last obstacle to the granting of a parole to John R. Walsh, former Chicago banker, serving a five year sentence in the Leavenworth federal prison, was removed today when United States District Attorney Sims nullified the remaining indictments against the aged financier.

The order to dismiss the indictments came from Attorney General Wickersham and is taken here to indicate that freedom is near for Walsh. The indictment was similar to the one on which Walsh was convicted and contained 182 counts.

According to Warden McLaughrey of the prison, the case of Walsh will be one of the first to be considered.

Walsh was convicted of violating the banking laws in connection with his three banks—the Chicago National, the Home Savings and the Equitable Trust company. President Taft recently refused him a pardon and the case has gone to the parole board.

FIFTEEN DAYS FOR "CLEAN UP" THREAT

William Milligan, laborer, 1713 Wood street, attempted, or rather threatened to "clean out" Englebreton's saloon, 1905 George street, last night.

He landed in the street, in the police station, in police court this morning, and this afternoon started on a fifteen day sentence in the county jail.

BROKER IN TITLES WANTS U. S. CASH

CHICAGO, July 14.—European men of title are turning greedy eyes on the fortunes of Chicago women and are anxious to sell their titles for a Chicago wife with plenty of Chicago dollars. This is the story told by Mrs. Suzannah Ella Wood Dean, rich and handsome widow of John E. Dean, upon her return home from a tour of Europe.

Mrs. Dean tells a thrilling story of how she ran the gauntlet to escape the impecunious peers. "No sooner had I registered at a hotel in London," related Mrs. Dean, "than I received a letter from an Englishman who offered to introduce me to any number of peers, society men, or military officers, who wanted to marry a wealthy American. For the fun of it I wrote him that I was interested and he gave me full details as to terms and everything else."

To show how the title-marriage broker operates, Mrs. Dean read part of a letter from this man which said: "If I want to get hold of a peer or a titled man I always get them through the secretary of one of the small clubs, and am introduced to the peer by my right name, which is not the one I sign to this letter. In the same way I get hold of a society man or a military officer. Our clients desiring private negotiations have to pay fifty guineas ($250), half down and half on engagement."

Mrs. Dean smilingly completed her story by declaring that she still had her $250.

Children of 16 are man and wife.

CHICAGO, July 14.—A prosaic petition filed in the juvenile court of Chicago has disclosed a youthful romance and the fact that the St. Joe marriage bug is extending its field of operation to the children.

Mrs. Helen Long has asked the court to help her get back her 16 year old son, Charles, from his 16 year old bride who was Miss Helen Inness until the two youngsters took a trip across the lake to St. Joseph a month ago. They started for a dancing party, but landed in the Michigan gretna green. The young bridegroom earns $3 a week as an errand boy. His capital consisted of $17.40 when the elopement took place. Both are quite confident of their ability to get along nicely on his salary.

DRAWN GREAT CROWD

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 14.—Motorcyclists from all over the country paraded through the streets of Buffalo this morning, thousands of people witnessing the novel spectacle. Interest in motorcycling as a sport has been spreading rapidly during the past year and an unprecedented field of entrants will take part in the annual race meet of the Federation of American Motorcyclists at Fort Erie this afternoon and tomorrow.

The racing card is sure to be the most exciting in the history of the federation. The feature will be the amateur motorcycle championships of the United States. A special silver cup will be presented to the rider who accomplishes the most consistent performance in the three championship races to be run during the meet, the winner to bear the title of amateur champion of America.

The victor will be decided by the point system, the winner of the one-mile championship race to receive five points, the second three points, and the third two points. The winner of the ten-mile championship race will receive six points, the second four points, and the third two points. The winner of the one-hour championship race will receive ten points, the second five points, and the third three points. It will be necessary for the winner of the trophy to take part in all three events, and even the man who wins third in the one-mile race will stand a chance to win the title. The interest will thus be sustained, as the victor will not be known until the third championship race is run.

MOTOR BOAT RACE LONG

NEW YORK, July 14.—Starting at four o'clock this afternoon, a fleet of motor boats will chug out of the harbor at Huntington, L. I., to begin the long race of 240 nautical miles to Marblehead, Mass. The race is for cruising craft of from thirty to forty feet over all. The affair is under the auspices of the Motor Boat Club of America, which will present trophies to the winners.

WRIGHTS WILL NOT FLY AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, July 14.—The Wright Brothers, Wilbur and Orville, will not take part personally nor permit the exhibition of any of their aeroplanes at the international aviation meet in Chicago August 12 to 20, because their terms were deemed too high by the committee on arrangements. They will be almost the only aviators of note that will not compete for the $100,000 prizes. The negotiations with them ended by the Wright brothers refusing to participate. Accompanying this refusal was a letter from their manager, F. H. Russell, notifying the promoters that they would be held responsible for the exhibition of any aeroplane which the Wrights consider an infringement upon their patents. This action will not prevent the exhibition from being the greatest ever held in this country. The preliminary work is going on rapidly and within two weeks the task of erecting the seats for 50,000 persons will be under way. This meeting, with the great international military pageant to be held at the same place in August, probably will fix the status of Grant park as a permanent public exposition field for Chicago. Already a movement has been started by the school board to have a permanent stadium for school children constructed in the park. Grant park lies along the lake shore just off the business and transportation center of the city. It was made by reclaiming the land from the lake.

ABSOLUTE LIFE LEADER GUILTY

Evelyn Arthur See Faces
Ten Year Sentence for Abduction of Mildred Bridges

CHICAGO, July 14.—With "prophet-revealer" Evelyn Arthur See, the "God man" convicted of the abduction of Mildred Bridges, the high priestess, and facing a ten year term in Joliet, and with Stephen H. Bridges, the girl's father, preparing to prosecute them as See's aides, Mona Rees, high priestess of absolute life, and her mother, Mrs. Felicia Rees, declared today they would continue the teaching of See's alleged free love doctrines in the temple of the junior commonwealth.

See was found guilty last night on the dual charge of abduction and contributing to the juvenile delinquency of Mildred Bridges. The first charge is a felony and the second a misdemeanor and the verdict, therefore, illegal. The jury was sent back and ordered to make the charge merely abduction.

Stephen H. Bridges declared today he would ask the court to parole his daughter, Mildred into his care. She is now a ward of the juvenile court. He added that he expected to go before the grand jury and ask indictments against Mona Rees and her mother. The state, too, it is said, will seek indictments against these two women and Mrs. Lucille Bridges, mother of Mildred Bridges, on the charge that they perjured themselves in their futile efforts to save the "God man" from a felon's cell.

Because of the mass of evidence brought out at the trial, the attorneys asked Judge Honore to postpone until September the hearing of the motion for a new trial. Pending the motion, See's bail bond was fixed at $5,000, which was given by the owner of the flat building in which is located the temple of the junior commonwealth.

BULL MANGLES FARMER

WETHERFIELD, Vt., July 14.—With several ribs broken, his lungs punctured in two places and his face, body and legs a mass of abrasions, bruises and torn flesh, Myron Eaton today lies at the point of death after having been caught in a pasture of his farm by an enraged bull, which tossed him several times in the air. Eaton's body was bound where he had crawled from under the bull's thrashing feet, when a pet dog led members of the family to the spot.

M'GOVERN SIGNS INCOME TAX BILL

Governor Bestows Praise
on Various Provisions in Accompanying Memorandum

MADISON, Wis., July 14.—(Special.)—Wisconsin's enactment of an income tax law was completed at 3:55 o'clock yesterday afternoon when Governor McGovern signed the bill, 573S, creating this revenue-producing scheme. Accompanying the bill the governor returned a memorandum reviewing the features of the bill and bestowing praise upon its various provisions.

Governor McGovern recalled that practically every penny of revenue raised by this bill over and above the cost of administration will go to support of local government (10 per cent to the state, 20 per cent to the county and 70 per cent to the town, city or village in which it is collected), but that the entire expense of administration will be borne by the state.

"One may very safely say," he added, "that the entire net proceeds of this tax will go into the local treasury."

Answers Criticism

"This feature affords a complete answer to the criticism that an income tax is sound in principle but should be administered by the national government rather than by the state; and it renders utterly untenable the claim that the taxation of income will injure business or drive capital from the state."

After this year personal property taxation will practically cease. The total amount of local taxes will be more widely distributed.

The governor commended the feature exempting the necessities of life from taxation and its comparatively low rate of taxation.

"Large fortunes invested in credits and securities which for years have escaped taxation will now be required for the first time to bear their fair share of the expense of the government which protects them and their owners," continued the governor. "Under it corporations as well as individuals will be treated fairly and taxed moderately at rates very little if any higher than those applicable to individuals of large income."

Praises Working of Law

The governor praised the administrative machinery provided for the law, which involves a centralized organization, acting under the direction of the state tax commission. He predicted the income tax will prove the most satisfactory of all forms of taxation.

READ THE FACTS and FIGURES BELOW

While our buyer was in New York ordering next fall's goods he bought large lots of Men's Pants and Ladies' Skirts at prices even below manufacturer's cost. The purchases were divided between our Oshkosh and La Crosse stores. When taking into consideration that the skirt purchase consists of black voiles, black, blue, brown Panamas, black French Serge, and some fancy shades, and the pants purchase consists mostly of dark heavy and medium weight worsteds, and some light colors, these purchases are indeed the rarest kind of good fortune, because every garment can be worn next fall and winter as well as now.

Those who demand quality and seek economy the list of bargains given below from our regular stock should appeal strongly.

NEW REVOLUTION IS BREWING IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, July 14.—Evidence of a counter revolution against the Madero government, planned, it is declared by the Cientificos or reactionaries of the Diaz regime, is supposed to have been found today in the sudden renewal of fighting between Maderistas and federals in several states.

The Cientificos, it is charged, are taking advantage of the approaching elections to stir up political disturbances.

The fighting in which more than 100 were killed at Puebla yesterday, a few hours before Madero's arrival in that city, is declared to have been planned by the Cientificos.

Reports today from Ocotlan say that fighting has been renewed there between the adherents of rival candidates for governor. More than fifty persons are reported to have been killed in the last few days.

Today's reports from the state of Chiapas that 2,000 armed men there have refused to obey the order of the federal troops to disband, is adding to the cabinet's perplexities.

ANOTHER BLOW AT TOBACCO COMBINE

NORFOLK, Va., July 14.—Another blow at the American Tobacco company as a "conspiracy in restraint of trade" was given here yesterday when the jury in the case of the Ware Kramer Cigarette company of Norfolk, Va., against the trust found in favor of the cigarette company, recommending $20,000 damages. According to the "treble damages" section of the Sherman law, the Norfolk company can now recover $60,000 from the trust.

LIQUOR WAR DRAWS TO CLOSE

DALLAS, Tex., July 14.—With just one week more of campaigning left to them, the "drys" and the "wets" of Texas today entered upon a final whirlwind crusade for and against state-wide prohibition, which will be decided by the voters at the special election a week from tomorrow. Not since the Bailey and anti-Bailey warfare has any issue so aroused the people of the Lone Star state and it is quite probable that 450,000 or more votes will be cast. Broadly speaking, the majority in the larger cities, especially San Antonio, Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth, and Galveston and El Paso, favor the perpetuation of the present local option regime, while the "drys" hope to win over a majority in the agricultural sections of the state. There is every indication that the result will be close. Large sums of money have been spent by both sides, the National Anti-Saloon League coming to the aid of the Texas prohibitionists, while the brewing and distillery interests of the entire country have helped in supplying the sinews of war to the "wet" campaigners.

HENWOOD ALLEGES ON PART OF JUDGE

DENVER, Colo., July 14.—Prejudice on the part of Judge Greeley W. Whitford, conspiracy between District Attorney Elliott and John W. Springer to aid the latter in getting a divorce and prevent Mrs. Springer from saying anything advantageous to Henwood on the witness stand; the discovery of new testimony that Sylvester Von Phul carried a revolver on the day of the shooting and an alleged statement on the part of Mrs. Springer that, if she testified again she will tell all she knows, are the sensational allegations set up in a motion for a new trial made by Frank H. Henwood, convicted of killing George E. Copeland here. The motion was filed by Attorney John T. Bottom, counsel for Henwood.

IS ICE TRUST SCARED?

NEW YORK, July 14.—With three investigations into the allegation that the ice trust was holding back ice from this city to drive the independent dealers out of business, the docks of the big combine presented scenes of activity today. More barges loaded with ice were docked than on any single day previously this summer. District Attorney Whitman expected to present the evidence against the trust furnished him by the independents and the police to the grand jury this afternoon or tomorrow.

FRANCE WORRIES SPAIN

MADRID, July 14.—Increasing tension between France and Spain over Morocco is causing the Spanish government considerable worry. It is charged by Premier Canalejas that the French press is deliberately endeavoring to make the position of Spain more difficult. Reports from Tangier say that more French reinforcements arrived near El Ksar today.

ST. PAUL MAY NAME NE HARBOR MASTER

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 14.—St. Paul needs a harbor master on the Mississippi river. If one is chosen, he will succeed James J. Hill, who 46 years ago kept the river vessels in their proper places. Mr. Hill was harbor master forty-six years ago, and there has not been one since. City Clerk Relington says complaints have come in from captains of vessels that they cannot get dockage room because other vessels refuse to move.

SUPERIOR CLUB TAKES CONTEST

Northerners Get Best of a Clubfest and Win the Game by a Score of 8 to 4

ALL TWIRLERS ARE EASY

Price and Gilchrist Are Pounded Off the Slab in the Early Part of the Battle

The Outcast pitchers all looked alike to the Superior batsmen yesterday and when the game finally closed the visitors were in the lead by a score of 4 to 8.
Price went on the mound at the beginning of the contest but didn't have the goods and was finally forced to the club house in the fifth round of the battle. Weidell came to the rescue, or attempted to, but proved just as easy as had his predecessor. With Bennett shining as the big star with three safe slugs and the rest of the Taylor Kids following closely in his footsteps the final count of bingles reached an even dozen.

However, the clubfest was not all one-sided, the Bondies having reached the first two figure numbers by the time the contest ended. Crangle and Kelly managed to pull down six of the safe swats between, one of which was a two sacker by the Irish first sacker.

The Bondies started in the lead, making a run in the first on a couple of walks and the same number of bingles. The Superior club took the lead in their half on a couple of singles, a two bagger, a walk and a sacrifice. This was followed by the Bondies in the same inning by another run on a walk, a single and some Ty Cobb base running by Billy Wais, which tied the score. In the fourth, the Outcasts took the lead, making one more tally on three safe ones, one of which was a double by Price.

In the fifth Price started to untie the cords that held the airship by letting the Kids have two safe ones. Bugs then went on the slab and finished the job by allowing three more bingles before the inning was finished. This performance cost the Outcasts just four runs.

This was followed by three more hits and a walk in the sixth which netted the visitors two more runs and practically decided the game. In the seventh the Outcasts made their final run on a two bagger by Kelly and some bum pegging by the visitors.

MURPHY WANTS SAINTLY BATTERY
MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 14.—Charles W. Murphy of the Chicago Cubs is here today in an effort to close a deal for St. Paul's star battery, O'Toole and Kelly. It is declared Murphy has secretly raised his offer to $25,000 cash, perhaps the largest sum ever offered in baseball history for two players. It is not believed his bid will be raised by either St. Louis or the White Sox, both of whom had offered large sums for the battery.

CUP TO BE GIVEN TO HIGH FLYER

DIAMOND DUST

Again it may be timely to ask: Is it necessary to name the center fielder who can score from first base on a measly single when such a score is needed to win the game?

Wouldn't it be a unique sensation if some morning you could read the sport page without seeing Ty Cobb featured as the winner of another sensational game?

Umpire Finneran, minus many molars, banished scrappy John J. McGraw and didn't go to the hospital.

Sherwood Magee, who spoiled Finneran's looker, has disappeared. Which may help the national game, but removes one "white man's hope" from the running.

Oh, yes, St. Louis won again. And even Boston fans are taking enough interest in the game to slug Umpire Johnstone. What in the world has come over that town?

Mr. Keefe of Cincinnati deserves sympathy. He held Philadelphia to four hits—three of which Luderus got—and then lost his game, 1 to 0. But then Ford and Brockett held the St. Louis Browns to two hits and lost their game, 6 to 1.

Candidates are crowding around the top rungs of the National league ladder so close that if anybody's grip slips, there will be a chance to pick up the pieces, for the fall will be one of several stories.

And Brooklyn tumbled the chesty Cubs into third place.

BRIGGS ENTERS NATIONAL RACE

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 14.—Paddlers learned today that a new swimming star from Chicago, Jack Briggs, 16, will enter the annual ten mile swim in the Mississippi river for the championship of the National Amateur Athletic union. Missouri Athletic club officials, who will conduct the race August 19, believe Bud Goodwin New York, winner of last year's trophy, will yet enter this event.

Goodwin withdrew because a new rule awards all trophies to the winner's club rather than to the individual.

CARRIES OUT THREAT

FORT WAYNE, Ind., July 14.—James Nolan, a Pennsylvania watchman, shot and killed his wife at their home. It is said he had been drunk since Saturday and half an hour before the tragedy had flourished his revolver in a saloon and declared his murderous intentions. He is in jail.

SEGREGATION IS HELD IN SCORN

Minneapolis Commission Demands Continuous Policy of Vice Suppression in Report

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 14.—Holding segregation of vice as impossible and recommending its suppression through strictest police power and improved conditions is the gist of the report of the Minneapolis vice commission to Mayor James C. Haynes.

The following are the principal recommendations of the commission: A definite and continuous policy of vice suppression in connection with the enforcement of existing law.

A permanent moral commission to assist in carrying out that policy. Regulation of hotels and lodging houses.

Instruction in Schools
 Proper instruction in the public schools.

A city hospital exclusively for patients afflicted with insidious diseases.

Power of the state board of medical examiners to control "quacks." A state law requiring medical certification of health as essential to marriage.

More school and public playgrounds and more provision for high school athletics.

Better wages and improved economic conditions for girl employees.

Only boys 21 years old or older to be employed as messengers.

Censorship of moving picture shows and penny picture devices.

Elimination of girls as ushers in theatres.

Increased police diligence to keep young people off streets at night.

Enforcement of laws against dealers in indecent post cards, etc.

A detention home for girls.

A lodging and boarding house for girls as sought by the travelers' aid under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A.

Segregation is Decried

After reviewing in detail segregation in cities of the United States and in Europe the commission announces the following as among its disapprovals:

Segregation as a means of coping with the social evil.

The continental method of dealing with the problem.

Medical inspection in a segregated district.

Public dance halls.

Hotels and rooming places that are improperly conducted.

Saloon restaurants.

The commission found no traces in Minneapolis of the white slave traffic. Lack of home discipline, the report says, is growing at an alarming rate, and the love of diversion and excitement has a serious effect upon the home standards.

TRAGEDY AT ST. CHARLES

WINONA, Minn., July 14.—In full view of several hundred persons on the station platform at St. Charles, Wednesday night, Samuel McKuen, 60 years old, a farmer residing north of the village, drove his team down the main street and almost into the train in front of the depot at the crossing, where the flagman seized the reins.

The frightened horses turned suddenly and dashed along the full length of the platform. Persons awaiting the arrival of the train were thrown into a panic, several being trampled upon and sustaining minor injuries, and a number barely escaped being run down by the train in their efforts to escape the runaway team.

In making the turn upon the platform, the farmer was thrown from the seat in the wagon into the side of the train. He was hurled back upon the platform and fatally injured. His head was crushed and numerous bones were broken.

ATTEMPT ON LIVES

ROCHESTER, Minn., July 14.—An attempt on the lives of an entire family was brought to light yesterday when Gustave Henke, a prominent farmer residing near Douglas, this county, drank a bottle of tonic which was found to contain Paris green. Mr. Henke had a narrow escape from death, there being about an ounce of the poison in the bottle.

While working in the garden at the home Mrs. Henke noticed a bunch of weeds carelessly thrown about the onion patch. She raked them away and discovered that Paris green had been poured upon the bulbs.

Mr. Henke decided to report the case to Rochester, his suspicions being aroused.

It is probable the matter will be taken up by the authorities, although it is not known who the persons might be or what would be the motive of such a deed.

FINDS PEARL WORTH $3,000

BEMIDJI, Minn., July 14.—A black pearl, second in value only to the diamond, was found yesterday in the Mississippi river near here by William Bates, a professional clam hunter. When brought to this city the gem was found to weigh within a fraction of forty-four carats and its value, it was said, could not be less than $3,000. The pearl, almost perfect in shape, is about the size of a small hazel nut. Its color is a deep, velvety black.

WINONA HEADS DRUGGISTS

DULUTH, Minn., July 14.—The state convention of druggists came to a close here yesterday with the election of officers. Winona was chosen for the next meeting place and the following officers elected: Theodore F. Leeb, Winona, president; Fred H. Heintz, Minneapolis, secretary; Louis J. Aberwald, St. Paul, treasurer; John Daneek of Minneapolis, A. Thompson of St. Paul and W. A. Abbott of Duluth, executive board.

BOY'S WAGON TIPS AUTO

CONCORD, N. H., July 13.—Carelessness of several small boys who left a learned wagon in the road was today learned to have caused the overturning of an automobile in which Dr. Ralph E. Gallinger, son of Senator Gallinger and physician at the New Hampshire state prison, and Albert E. Davies were riding when Dr. Gallinger was instantly killed at midnight. The wrecked toy wagon was found buried under the smashed machine. Davies was terribly bruised and injured but may recover.

ANGRY TRAMPS START FIRE

RACINE, Wis., July 13.—Tramps, who had been refused a hand-out this morning at the home of Clinton Case, south of Racine college, set fire to an outhouse and the flames destroyed three barns valued at $2,000. One of the city firemen was overcome by smoke and doctors worked over him over half an hour before he was restored to consciousness.

ULRICH CASE DELAYED

NEW YORK, July 13.—When the case against Albert Ulrich, the carpenter charged with assaulting Booker T. Washington, who says he struck the negro educator because he made an insulting remark to his wife, was called for trial today, there were no appearances and the case was sent today as the result of a gasoline explosion at Ruby, Colo. Mrs. Williams attempted to clear out bugs which had infested the house, by pouring gasoline in the cracks of the floor.

FORMER CONGRESSMAN DEAD

CINCINNATI, O., July 13.—Former Congressman William Shattuck died suddenly today of heart trouble. Shattuck represented the first district of Ohio in congress for six years but retired eight years ago.

UNDER WATER 7 MINUTES

NEW YORK, July 14.—Gabriel Cross dove into the East river. His head struck the bottom between two stones. In seven minutes companions succeeded in freeing him. He said it seemed like a month under water.

BUG DESTROYER KILLS 5

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., July

13.—O. J. Williams, a pump man on the Rio Grande Western, his wife and three small daughters are dead today as the result of a gasoline explosion at Ruby, Colo. Mrs. Williams attempted to clear out bugs which had infested the house, by pouring gasoline in the cracks of the floor.

INVENTOR GOES TO PRISON

NEW YORK, July 14.—Harry S. Britten, civil engineer and inventor of note, was sentenced to four years in Sing Sing. While awaiting trial he invented a safety aero car which is to be tried out by wealthy backers while he is in prison.

CHOLERA RAVAGES ITALY

ROME, July 13.—Despite all denials and efforts of the government to conceal the real situation, the cholera is spreading in Italy and the epidemic is rapidly becoming more serious. Numerous new cases are reported from Venice and Naples.

ELK SESSION NEARS END

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 14.

—So far as business is concerned, the annual national reunion of Elks is over and done today, although most of the delegates are remaining over for tonight's big final blow-out, the grand ball at Young's Million Dollar Pier, which will bring the convention to an end with a final blaze of glory. The annual ball of the Elks is one of the big features of the national gatherings, and tonight's affair promises to have a little more eclat and jollity than usual. The big pier by the salty sea is an ideal place for dancing. Today's program included sailing excursions on the briny and trips to the Country Club, while other visitors disposed themselves on the beach and in the water. Tomorrow the exodus will begin in earnest. Most of the western Elks will take advantage of the occasion to take a peep at New York and other eastern cities before returning to their homes.

UNLIKE ANY OTHER

One secret of Monarch superiority lies in the wonderful responsiveness of its key action. In no other typewriter in the world do the keys so readily yield to the slightest touch of the finger.

That is why the Monarch is easier to operate than any other writing machine.

MONARCH LIGHT TOUCH

That is why it wards off fatigue and saves nerve-strain on the part of the stenographer. In consequence, her work is more accurate, greater in quantity than it is possible to obtain with any other writing machine.

MONTHLY PAYMENTS.

MAY BE PATCHED UP

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—

That Ethel Barrymore and her husband, Russell Colt, have effected a reconciliation is the general belief
here today following the announcement of the actress having canceled
all her coast engagements after next Saturday. She will finish her season at San Francisco and will start to New York on Sunday. Although the actress declared today
she had nothing to say regarding her reported quarrel with Colt, her friends say this move means a reconciliation.PURDY IS CALLED

COUNTIES WILL BUILD SANATORIA

Many Boards Appropriate Money to Fight the White Plague

MADISON, Wis., July 14.—Acting under authority of a law passed by the present legislature, several of the large counties of the state have appropriated money for county sanatoria. This step has been taken by the county boards of Douglas, Outagamie, Fond du Lac, and Dunn, and will undoubtedly be taken also in the immediate future by Eau Claire, Dane, Marathon, Racine and probably Ashland. Racine, however, is contemplating erecting a city sanatorium, in which event state aid will not be sought.

The act under which the counties are operating appropriates $20,000 annually for defraying one-half of the expense of maintaining persons afflicted with tuberculosis in county sanatoria. The county is given power to build tuberculosis sanatoria, one-half of the expense of maintenance to be borne by the county and one-half by the state. So great has been the demand at the Wisconsin state sanatorium that it has been impossible to accommodate all the patients applying for admission.

The Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, through Miss Edythe L. M. Tate, Milwaukee, has made a survey of many counties and the results have been startling. With this knowledge of the crying need of county sanatoria, she is now aiming to secure action by county boards for the erection of such sanatoria. At present she is engaged at Ashland, where the need for such accommodations is said to be pronounced.

Seventeen states have adopted this plan of county sanatoria, each with marked efficiency.

NO AUTO RACES AT STATE FAIR

Sec'y Rowlands Announces that Plans for Races have Been Abandoned; Cash Prizes Large

MADISON, Wis., July 14.—Larger purses for horses and cattle than have ever before been offered are provided for the next Wisconsin state fair. Secretary R. W. Rowlands gave out the following statement of amounts of premiums in live stock classes today:

Horses ..... $ 8,662.00
Cattle ..... 10,230.00
Sheep ..... 3,957.00
Swine ..... 3,529.00
Poultry and pet stock .. 1,141.00
Pigeons ..... 694.50

Secretary Rowlands stated that the plan of having automobile races has been definitely abandoned. The recent races under the auspices of the Milwaukee Automobile club have served to diminish interest in the sport to some extent, it is said, and in place of these thrillers the society will offer aero demonstrations. Negotiations are being conducted with the Curtiss company, which offers two aeroplanes, and with the Strobel company, which proposes to furnish either a dirigible, a balloon or an aeroplane.

Saturday, the last day of the fair, will be military day. Part of the several Wisconsin regiments, the several regimental bands, and a detachment of soldiers from Fort Sheridan are promised as attractions.

All the streets on the fair grounds have been oiled and the same treatment will be applied on the arena and other much-traveled passages in the live stock pavilion and other buildings. For the first time in the fair's history the dust problem will have been effectually settled in 1911.

EVA BOOTH PROSTRATED

BOLL WEEVILS SCARCE

HOUSTON, Tex., July 14.—Boll weevils are scarcer in Texas this year than for many years, and, except in the wooded valleys along the west Gulf coast, the pest will do little damage to the cotton crop. According to experts, the thinning out of the boll weevil family is due largely to the two very hot and dry summers just past and to the dry weather this season. The excessive heat causes the squares on the cotton plant to dry up and fall off and the weevil is deprived of its principal sustenance and cannot thrive. This does not injure the cotton, and in fact causes the plants to grow larger. The bolls open later, however, and this adds to the danger from frost.

MISSION CONFERENCE TODAY

NORTHFIELD, Mass., July 14.—A national summer school of women's foreign missionary societies was commenced here today and will continue a week. The women's home missionary conference will follow during the week of July 21. Both conferences were established by the late Rev. Dwight L. Moody. The general Moody conference of Christian workers will begin Aug. 4 and continue to Aug. 20.

There are times when a silent witness is an unspeakable nuisance.

NOTED CLUBHOUSE SOLD

NEW YORK, July 13.—The Sheepshead Bay club house, a relic of the old days of horse racing, has been sold for $20,000, being the amount for which it was mortgaged. One of the principal art treasures of the spacious building is a moose head shot by Col. Roosevelt, when he was president.

Grain Letter
CHICAGO, July 14.—The closing up a house formerly prominent in the trade caused a timid feeling in the grain pit today. It is largely this feeling that causes one market to have more than the usual influence upon the other. Wheat opened weak and though there were several rallies, noon prices were considerably lower. Most of the current wheat trade news was on the side of the sellers. Temperatures over the northwest were low enough this morning to remove all fear of another heat scare for the present.

There were practically no rains indicated over the corn country on the weather map. Temperatures over Iowa and Nebraska were favorable, following recent rains and private reports from Kansas claimed scattered moisture. Fairly good buying orders with commission people were followed by active bull operations in September corn.

At the opening today oats prices were better in sympathy with corn. Harvesting is general and while yields are better than expected, the outlook is for a short crop. Offerings of new oats continue fairly heavy.

Provisions were dull and easier. There was some pressure to sell because of light hog receipts.

CHOLERA EPIDEMIC

PARIS, July 14.—Several cases of suspected cholera are under observation here. Despite emphatic denials of danger, much fear is felt that the epidemic will be brought from Italy. Inspectors have been sent to the frontier to examine all passengers. A rigid censorship has been established in Italy on all news dispatches relating to the cholera, but advices via the frontier indicate that the situation in Naples, Venice, Genoa and other cities, is becoming serious.

HARVEST CALLS MEN

MANY HANDS NEEDED TO CARE FOR BUMPER CROPS IN THE NORTHWEST THIS SUMMER

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 14.—Close upon the heels of the reports of good crops that will be harvested through the northwest, especially in northern Minnesota, North Dakota and the Canadian provinces, are coming calls for harvest hands even at this early date, that from present indication will equal the demands occasioned by the bumper crop of 1909.

John H. Wilson, manager of the state free employment bureau said today that upwards of 15,000 or 20,000 men will be needed in the harvest fields of northern Minnesota, North Dakota and Canada this summer.

That the harvest yield of this summer in the northwest will greatly exceed that of last year, and may equal the bumper crop of 1909, is the opinion of the crop experts of the railroads. Extensive preparations are being made by all of the railroads to this end and little difficulty in handling the crops is looked for from this source.

KING'S PRESENT IS RETURNED BY EDITOR

CHICAGO, July 14.—A foreign-born citizen of Chicago has returned a royal decoration bestowed upon him by his former king, because he felt he had no right to retain it. The man is Nicholas A. Grevstad, editor of Skandinaven, a Norwegian publication. The decoration was that of the Norwegian knighthood of St. Olaf and was conferred several years ago by King Haakon of Norway in recognition of Mr. Grevstad's service as a newspaper man. The occasion for its return is the appointment of Mr. Grevstad by President Taft as United States minister to Uruguay and Paraguay. "The constitution prohibits the acceptance by federal officials of decorations from foreign governments," explained Mr. Grevstad. "While I received the order prior to entering the American diplomatic service, I feel that I should ask the consent of congress to retain it, and I do not wish to do that."

OPERATION ON SPINE MAY SAVE A LIFE

DENVER, Colo., July 14.—To save the life of Nathan Lyons, son of a wealthy rancher, Dr. M. F. McCartney removed the splintered lamina of the fifth cervical vertebra in Lyons' neck, an operation considered one of the most radical known to surgery. Lyons broke his neck four weeks ago while riding a notorious "outlaw" horse and was at death's door. He is reported as having an excellent chance for life.

WILL FLY TO WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Despite threatening weather, Aviator Harry N. Atwood said today that he expected to fly from College Park to the White house late this afternoon and receive from the president a gold medal commemorative of his Boston-to-Washington flight, given by the Aero club.

SMALL HOPE FOR GATES

PARIS, July 14.—John W. Gates is much weaker this afternoon. This was confirmed by his son, Charles G. Gates, who said that he believed his father still had a chance to recover. The general impression is that the American financier will not last much longer. Even his physicians hold out little hope.

BRYAN FLAYS PLAN

SAYS CARNEGIE SCHEME FOR REGULATION OF PRICES BY COURT OF COMMERCE IS FARCE

LINCOLN, Neb., July 14.—William J. Bryan, in an editorial in The Commoner, flays the Carnegie scheme whereby the court of commerce would fix trust prices.

In part Bryan wrote: "Mr. Carnegie says trust prices should be fixed by the court of commerce. That is the plea now. Combination is to me regarded as an established fact—a fact that we are told, cannot be prevented, and then the public is asked to trust to regulation! Who are to regulate? Officials. And who is to appoint the officials? The president. And who will select the president? The trusts. That is the program and it has been carried out successfully so far. The steel trust was organized in 1901—just after a republican victory. It started out with 700,000,000 of dollars of water in its capitalization. It has proceeded for ten years without interference and it favors 'regulation,' because it feels able to control the regulators. This is the republican plan. The supreme court has, by writing the word 'unreasonable' into the anti-trust law, virtually repealed the criminal clause, and the republican leaders make no effort to strengthen the law. How long will the people allow themselves to be deluded and deceived by the farcical attempts at regulating private monopolies?"

VICTIM OF FATE

PEORIA, Ill., July 14.—Fate which denied him the sweetheart of his youth until he was 57 years old pursued him even on his honeymoon and death ended the life of Prof. Charles R. ## HOPE FOR CHEAP MEATS IN U. S.

Rapid Growth of Alfalfa-fed Cattle and Sheep Industry in the Western Provinces

WOOL KING BUYS RANCH

F. W. Fairbairn Is Advance Guard of Invading Army of Australian Sheep Growers

CHICAGO, July 14.—Hope for cheaper meats in the United States is held out by the rapid growth of the alfalfa-fed beef cattle and sheep industry in the western provinces of Canada, attention to which has just been called by the arrival in that section of the advance guard of an invading army of Australian sheep growers. F. W. Fairbairn, an Australian wool king with headquarters in London, recently purchased 4,000 acres in Alberta for sheep raising purposes. Mr. Fairbairn is the largest grower of wool in the world and his determination to have his son engage in the sheep industry in western Canada is taken as an indication that his future operations on a large scale will be on this continent.

A study of the business at the Chicago stockyards and at the other packing centers in this country and the reports of the federal government indicate that unless the livestock of this country is largely increased, or there is some relief from our neighbors the prices of meats will continue to remain high and may go higher.

Cattle are Scarcer
There are 4,000,000 fewer cattle in the United States than there were four years ago, while there are approximately 7,000,000 more people to feed. The cattle number 47,279,000 according to the government figures. In 1907 the number was 51,565,000. The number of cattle decreased in the United States in the last year by 4.4 per cent. There was a slight increase in the number of sheep, although there are 6,750,000 fewer than there were in 1903. The following table of percentage increase in the last year in the United States and the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta shows how western Canada is rapidly preparing to meet the meat deficit in the United States:

Item	Per Cent.
Increase in the U. S. in year	.2
Increase in Canadian provinces	4.4
Cattle
Increase in Canadian provinces in year	2.7
Decrease in the U. S.	4.4

Thus our northern neighbors are increasing their supply of sheep more than twice as rapidly as we are, and they are maintaining a substantial increase in the cattle supply while we are unable to make any gain.

Alfalfa that has been acclimatized, and that has been found by experiments to be as good as any fattening food for cattle, sheep or hogs, is responsible for most of the rapid growth.

The alfalfa which has been found to be the best producer for this part of the country was imported from Germany by a settler in northern Minnesota nearly sixty years ago. His name was Wendelin Grimm, and the alfalfa has been given his name. The plant has become thoroughly Americanized and a series of exhaustive tests both in Canada and the United States have proved it able to take care of itself and furnish bumper crops under even adverse conditions. Experiments conducted between 1904 and 1909 at the Indian Head experiment station in Saskatchewan proved Grimm capable of averaging three and a half tons of hay to the acre, withstanding a temperature of more than forty degrees below zero, and with only nineteen inches of rainfall during the growing season.

Alfalfa Crop Good
Mr. Angus Mackay, superintendent in charge of the experiments, reported:

"From the first the Grimm alfalfa has never been winter or spring killed in the least and on this account I consider it the most valuable strain for this country."

There are millions of acres of land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta which can be converted into alfalfa fattening fields for cattle, sheep and hogs. Mr. Fairbairn saw the possibilities in these acres and instead of buying a small cattle ranch as he originally intended before arriving in Calgary, he decided to purchase the 4,000 acres for sheep.

"The western Canadian provinces," he said, "will supply the world with wheat and meat in time to come. I make this statement from the standpoint of one who is in a position to know what the future has in store for this country. Now that it is being rendered accessible to the markets of the world through the construction of the two new transcontinental railroads, the Canadian Northern and the Grand Trunk Pacific, and the further extension of the Canadian Pacific, this country will be developed beyond the expectations of the most optimistic."
